Felipe Ramos

Frontend Engineer

Experienced Frontend Developer with over 6 years of expertise building responsive, accessible, and modern web applications using React and TypeScript. Proven track record of implementing UI designs with precision, collaborating closely with UI/UX teams, and delivering clean, maintainable, and well-tested code. Strong understanding of HTML, CSS, responsive design principles, and state management (including Redux and Redux Toolkit). Familiar with Material UI, CSS-in-JS approaches, and testing frameworks such as Jest and Storybook. Highly adaptable, with a continuous learning mindset and effective communication skills that foster strong team collaboration. Dedicated to upholding best practices in frontend architecture, documentation, and testing.
